Fell Off Horse—Broke Her Shoulder Blade

Adalaid, the 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Jesse Oldham, living on the Lexington pike about eight miles from town, fell off a horse one day last week and broke her shoulder blade. Medical aid was summoned, and at present the little girl is resting easy, much to the delight of her fond parents and friends.

Back From The Mountains

Madison county's Democratic nominee for jailer, Mr. Morgan Taylor, and Mr. S. R. Ballard, of the Valley View section, have returned from an extended business trip through eastern Kentucky. They were gone about three weeks and bought 42 head of cattle that will average 2800 pounds each.

School Improvement League

The Miller school near Valley View, being taught by Miss Myrtle Dalton, has organized a School Improvement League, with the following officers: Miss Myrtle Dalton, president, Mrs. Lovie Perkins, vice president and Chas. Stanifer, secretary-treasurer. Two committees, one on building and repair and the other on funds, were appointed. Much good will be accomplished by the League, both in a sanitary and educational way.

FARMERS' CHAUTAUQUA

Meetings Proving Of Value To Farmers.

That Madison county farmers are awakening to the importance of proper farming methods, is attested by the deep interest manifested by them in the Farmers' Chautauqua meetings being held in different sections of the county.

The first session was held at Flat Woods Christian Church, at Waco, and was well attended each day by the farmers, their wives and daughters. The location was an ideal place for the farmers conference, with numerous tents for shade and shelter.

Dr. J. G. Crabbe, of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal, located in this city, presided at all the meetings, and much of the good which will be accomplished by these meetings to the farmers of Madison county, present and future prosperity along agricultural lines, will be credited to the able and inspiring work of Dr. Crabbe.

The Bureau of Agriculture at Washington was represented by Dr. William H. Dexter, who addressed the gathering on important subjects of vital interest to the farmers.

Mr. J. B. McFerran of Louisville, whose liberal donations to the cause of better farm life in the State of Kentucky, and whose beneficence instituted the grand work in this county, was present, and aided the movement by cheering words of encouragement. Madison county people will ever hold him in grateful remembrance as a citizen and benefactor.

Aside from the highly instructive and entertaining program of the sessions, the inestimable benefits derived from the commingling of the people of the neighborhood will bring about better social conditions.

The generous hospitality of the Waco people was shown in the abundant supply of eatables, consisting of country ham, fried chicken and everything to satisfy the inner man.

The Madisonian representative wishes to thank Hon. C. L. Searcy, C. M. Embry and others for courtesies shown him during the pleasant stay.

At the closing exercises Wednesday afternoon, the following resolutions were presented and read by Hon. C. L. Searcy and were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, we believe that the future of each rural community lies in school improvement, a closer co-operation among the farmers, better roads, a more united church, better agriculture, and anything that tends toward the betterment of farm life.

Resolved, that we firmly believe this the most helpful meeting ever held in this county, and pledge ourselves to a continuance of the splendid work already begun by the Chautauqua.

Resolved, that we extend our most heartfelt thanks to Mr. J. B. McFerran for his generosity and presence at our meeting. That we also extend our thanks to Dr. J. G. Crabbe, our various committees and all others who helped to make possible this splendid meeting. That we, also, extend our sincere thanks to the many good housekeepers of the neighborhood who have been so generous in their efforts to make everyone welcome and happy.

Noted Lecturer Coming

Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, of Atlanta, will spend next week here delivering a series of addresses in the Presbyterian church on the Social Messages of the Bible. He is said to be one of the ablest men of Atlanta and was prominent in the cleaning up of that city the past year of the moral evils which have afflicted it for many years.

He is pastor of a church with over 1300 members and has two assistants who aid in the Social service work of the city and the Institutional work connected with his church.

The lectures he will deliver here are free and it is earnestly hoped that large audiences will greet him each night; it is particularly desired that the men of the city turn out as he will deal largely with the current problems of the day in a masterly way.

A week of fat things is in store for the public in this series of addresses and they will begin each night promptly at 7:30 and not last over one hour including some splendid music which will be rendered by some of the best voices of the city.

The first lecture will deal with "Capital and Labor from a Biblical viewpoint." The second one, "The Wheels of Justice," the third one, "The Church and the Poor," and the last one is on the "Citadel of the Home." Every one is cordially invited to all the services.

Eighty-Seventh Birthday

Mrs. Sarah DeJarnett celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday on Wednesday with all of her children around her bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Willis came over from Crab Orchard and brought her a beautiful cake, while each of the others remembered her in some way.

Misses Ann and Emma DeJarnett had planned a post card shower, which seemed to give her much pleasure and many of her near relatives and friends called during the day to leave messages of love and interest, and so the day passed full of peace and happiness and was a fitting tribute to her long life of service.

Killed By Mule

Alfred Marcum, who lived in Estill county was thrown last Sunday week by a mule and kicked by the animal in the head, from which injuries he died Tuesday morning. He was unconscious all the time but in his delirium he would sing verses of well known hymns. He was a son of David Marcum, of King's Station. He had left his father's home that day for Red Lick, where he was teaching. He was buried at the Richardson burying grounds.

Magaret Lane Quite Sick With Diphtheria.

Little Margaret Lane is very sick with Diphtheria at her home on Second street. She had been out driving on Friday afternoon with Anna Ware Chenault and came home complaining of her throat. When the physician was summoned he pronounced it Diphtheria. Her friends hope for her early improvement.

Fire At College Hill

A small store room at College Hill belonging to Mrs. G. W. Ginter burned last Friday morning between four and five o'clock. Two buggies, some blacksmith tools and farming implements were burned.

Sustained Broken Ribs

Chas. James, a prominent farmer of near Red House, was run over by a cow and sustained one or two broken ribs. Dr. Moss Gibson was called and administered to his injuries.
